Nonpareil Institute

Form 990, Part I, Line 1 - nonPareil Institute was founded in 2008 by two fathers with backgrounds in technology and sons diagnosed with autism spectrum disorder (ASD). In 2009 CEO and co-founder Dan Selec began training adults with ASD in the kitchen of his home to test the concept: training adults with autism to create video games, apps for mobile phones, and other technology products. On September 1, 2010, nonPareil Institute opened its first office on the campus of SMU-in-Plano with 8 clients with ASD and 3 employees. By the end of 2015, nonPareil Institute served 176 adults with autism, 33 of whom were part-time or full-time employees of nonPareil. As part of their technology training, adults with ASD who demonstrate initiative and ability become members of project teams working on products that nonPareil can market. Over time, the goal is that many of these adults eventually can earn income based on the sales of these technology products. Technology training consists of specific skill sessions, group sessions focused on software development and skills needed in the information technology workplace, plus access to the nonPareil computer lab to practice the skills being learned. Some of the instruction, as well as computer lab support, is done by adults with ASD who have been in the program longer and who have become well-versed in the software and methods used at nonPareil. Group sessions focus on teamwork, collaboration and skills needed to participate in group projects to create apps, video games, e-books and other projects. To partially offset the cost of the program, adults with ASD pay fees during the evaluation and training phases. In 2015 nonPareil opened a second site, Houston, for this technology program, so that even more adults with ASD have the opportunity to develop to their full potential. Also in 2015 nonPareil initiated its Essentials program to focus primarily on social and communication skills. The Essentials program is designed to meet the needs of those adults with ASD who may need more focus on basis socialization skills before attempting a more vocationally-oriented training program.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 11b - This Form 990 and all schedules were circulated to all of the directors via e-mail for their review and comments, with an opportunity for corrections, prior to filing with the IRS.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 12c - At least once per year, each director is provided with a copy of the conflict of interest policy and asked to sign a statement both confirming receipt of the policy and that the director is unaware of any interest that could give rise to a conflict of interest. Any issue that could rise to be a conflict of interest is brought to the board's attention and addressed under the terms of the policy.

Form 990, Part VI, Section B, Line 15 - The Board has a Compensation Committee composed of independent board members. The Compensation Committee reviews published data on comparable compensation, taking into account that nonPareil Institute is not just a nonprofit but also a technology company. As a result the CEO and certain other employees will need to have appropriate background in related technology industries in order to train adults with ASD, supervise the production of software, and develop the technology level of these adults with ASD so that they can participate in marketable projects. The Compensation Committee reviews comparable data from the technology industry, as appropriate, as well as data from the nonprofit industry, and brings a summary of its reviews and its recommendations to the full Board. The employee in question is absent from portions of the board meeting during which there is a discussion and/or vote regarding compensation. There is contemporaneous substantiation of the Board discussion and decisions.

Form 990, Part VI, Section C, Line 19 - Financial statements for nonPareil Institute are available on its website, as well as the most recently filed Form 990. Governing documents and the conflict of interest policy are available upon request.

Form 990, Part XI, Line 9 - For GAAP, donated advertising services and waiver of credit card fees are booked as gift in kind services revenue and expense.
